BULLETIN NO. 74

TO BREWERIES, BEER WHOLESALERS, DOMESTIC WINERIES, AND DOMESTIC WINE WHOLESALERS:

It has come to the attention of the Board that some beer and wine distributors are making unauthorized platform deliveries. May we call to your attention that there is no provision in either the Washington State Liquor Act or the Board's Rules and Regulations providing for platform delivery privileges. We refer you to Price Posting Regulations (49) and (81) of the Board's Rules and Regulations which specifically states that all beer and wine price postings filed with the Board are the delivered prices in each zone.

The Board has in emergencies authorized this privilege where a customer is not being served by a common carrier, or where road conditions make delivery service impracticable.

To qualify for platform delivery privilege the retail licensee should make written application to the Board for this privilege and designate the distributor or distributors from whom he wishes to purchase his beer and wine. Investigation will then be made to determine if the request is justified and if approved by the Board the retail licensee and the distributors concerned will be notified by letter. Please be governed accordingly.
